The War Today..

By DeWitt MacKenzie
AP War Analyst

UNLESS the foreign secretaries of the Big Three—Molotov of Russia, Eden of Britain and Stettinius of the United States—reach a compromise over the burning Polish question prior to the opening of the United Nations security conference in San Francisco Wednesday, this issue is likely to provide one of the uncomfortable hot-spots of the parley.

John M. Hightower, Associated Press diplomatic news editor, reports from San Francisco today that many there are inclined to regard this dispute as "the real key to success of plans for a world organization designed to keep the peace." That brings us back to the fundamental fact that peace depends on unity of the Big Three. The moment they split, the trouble begins.

The immediate problem revolves about the status of the present provisional government of Poland which is sponsored by Moscow. Washington and London have declined to recognize this government unless it is broadened to make it more representative of the Polish people as a whole. Moscow has stood pat, and has been insisting that the provisional government be invited to participate in the San Francisco conference.

The basic issue is Polish sovereignty. The reason that chancellors around the world have been burning midnight oil over it is that Poland's position has come to symbolize the right of all nations to the self-determination promised in the Atlantic charter.

At the outset there also was much heat-burning. Polish circles over Russia's absorption of eastern Poland, but since that's a fait accompli further argument would be flinging a dead horse. Many Poles now recognize that the promised compensation in the way of German territory—Silesia, and East Russia on the Baltic sea—will enable them to become a strong manufacturing and maritime nation.

Pals He Saved Witness Decoration

Staff Sgt. H. F. Erwin, with practically his entire body swathed in wrappings, is comforted by Maj.-Gen. Willis H. Hale, commanding general of Army Air Forces in the Pacific ocean area, who presented the badly burned sergeant with the Congressional Medal of Honor for extraordinary heroism in picking up a burning phosphorus bomb while over Tokyo and tossing it out of his B-29. Other members of Sgt. Erwin's crew, whose lives he saved by his brave action, stand by his bedside during the ceremony.

Petain Reaches Switzerland, Laval Refused Entry

By THOMAS HAWKINS

BERN, April 24.—Aged Marshal Petain entered Switzerland from Germany today after declaring himself willing to stand trial in France. And King Leopold of Belgium, who surrendered to the Germans in 1940, was expected to reach the Swiss frontier during the day.

Pierre Laval, arch collaborator of the Vichy regime, appeared at the frontier of nearby Liechtenstein, but was refused entry. Laval is under a death sentence imposed by a Marseille court which convicted him in absentia last fall of having had "intelligence with the enemy."

Petain, who observed his 89th birthday today, was allowed to enter Switzerland after asking and receiving official permission to cross the neutral country into France to surrender himself to French authorities.

The arrival of Petain and the expectation that King Leopold would reach Switzerland during the day indicated that the collapsing Nazi regime had permitted its potential hostages to leave—possibly through some understanding with the Allied governments concerned.

It was known that the Allied governments had been informed in advance of Petain's coming and presumably gave their consent.

FRISCO PARLEY DUE TOMORROW

Stalin Holds Key to Big Three Unity On Eve Of Conference

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

SAN FRANCISCO, April 24.—The next move in the Big Three row over Poland appears up to Marshal Stalin.

Anxious delegates looked toward Moscow today for whatever chance there is of Big Three unity on this fateful issue prior to the United Nations conference opening tomorrow.

Evidence to this effect came from Washington as negotiations among Secretary of State Stettinius, British Foreign Minister Eden and Foreign Commissar Molotov ended and they headed for this conference city.

Delegates eagerly awaited information as to how serious the Big Three split over Poland has become. Many are inclined to regard it the real key to success of plans for a world organization to keep the peace.

The situation at the moment is that the Big Three have arranged for control of the whole conference. But they are still striving to build a foundation for unity among themselves, chiefly because of the issue over what government is to rule Poland.

Move to San Francisco

Efforts to settle that issue ended abruptly yesterday when the White House announced that they would have to be continued in San Francisco, where Molotov, Eden and Stettinius are due to pass on final arrangements for tomorrow's steering committee session and the formal opening set for 4:30 p. m. Pacific War time.

The announcement said:

"In view of the limited time at their disposal in Washington prior to the opening of the San Francisco conference Wednesday a. m. in order to permit Mr. Molotov to consult with his government following these conversations, the discussions . . . will be continued by . . ."

RAISE 85-FT. POLE FOR STATE PATROL NEW RADIO HERE

Installation of a new short wave frequency-modulation police radio that will connect the Salem state patrol sub-station in a two-way manner with cars, other sectional posts and the district headquarters, was completed yesterday afternoon.

The new set, installed by Highway Department Chief Radio Engineer Albert Schick at the Salem station on the Lisbon road, links Salem in a new state-wide improvement in intra-station and car communications.

The equipment here is supplemented by an 85-foot pole, which when complete with antenna towers 94 feet above the ground, believed situated on one of the highest points in the state.

Previously, to reach cars from this station, Salem had to broadcast to Massillon and they, in turn, contacted the patrol cars in this district. Now two-way talk will be possible, not only with Massillon, but from Salem to the cars and stations throughout the section.

Although installation was completed yesterday, actual use of the new equipment will not begin until Thursday because Federal Communications Commission rulings stipulate a 48-hour interruption between installation and the first broadcasts.

Housewives May Apply Now For Canning Sugar

Housewives can apply for their home canning sugar beginning Wednesday, A. P. Morris, chairman of Salem Rationing board, said today.

Housewives can obtain application forms at the ration board headquarters, 429 E. State st. However, housewives should mail the completed application to the ration board and her canning sugar coupons will be mailed back to her. This would save time all around because the ration board will not be able to act on requests at the time of the application.

Before mailing the completed application to the board, "Spare Stamp 13" from War Ration Book Four, for each member of the family covered by the application, should be attached.

Only one application can be made by a family and applications cannot be received by the board after Oct. 31, Morris said.

When applications have been approved, canning sugar coupons good for five pounds and for one pound each will be mailed to the applicant. When the housewife uses the 5-pound coupons, she must sign her name and write the number of her War Ration Book Four on each coupon before giving it to her grocer. She should be sure to take her War Ration Book as well as the coupons with her to the store.

Because of the scarcity of sugar, applicants will be allowed only as much canning sugar as they actually need for canning, up to 20 pounds a person and 160 pounds a family.

Mrs. Layton Is Elected By Columbia Street PTA

Mrs. Arthur Brian, school nurse, gave a health talk at a meeting of the Columbia Street Parent-Teacher association last night at the school. She told what the Lions club and other civic units are doing for Salem children in correcting eye and teeth defects. A film, "The Case of Lucy X," which had to do with tuberculosis, was shown.

Officers selected at a business session include: President, Mrs. Jerry Layton; vice president, Miss Mary Konner; secretary, Mrs. Mary Conley; treasurer, Wilbur Hamilton.

The new officers will be installed May 28. This will be the last meeting of the season and sixth grade pupils will be special guests.

Parents Should Set Example For Children, P. T. A. Is Told

"If we as parents and teachers set the right example for our children it is better than a lot of talk. Children know pretty well whether you are genuine in your attitudes," Dr. A. B. Kitzmiller, professor of psychology at Mt. Union college, told members of the Fourth Street school Parent-Teacher association last night when he spoke on "Parent-Teacher Relation."

Dr. Kitzmiller, who has had wide experience in teaching in all grades from the ungraded country school to college and also in teaching in other nationalities and faces, gave some fundamental principles that would be helpful to parents and teachers alike in dealing with children.

He emphasized that a child should be made to feel that he belongs to the home and to the school, thus giving him a feeling of security, which is essential.

"Children need love and affection as much as they need food," he declared. "It doesn't take a child long to find out your attitude toward him."

Discussing the problem of punishment, Dr. Kitzmiller stated that he set the right example for our children by believing in the idiosyncrasies that we are worried about," he said. "Be careful that punishment does not aggravate your cause."

The speaker expressed the belief that the children should be taught to take responsibilities and to do a certain amount of work both at home and in school as this fosters a spirit of loyalty and tends to cultivate the right kind of citizenship.

The professor advised that parents and teachers be tolerant with children, remembering that they are not grown up and that they have much to learn. Then too, they should not be made to feel inferior and it is not advisable to make comparisons between children since all are not the same capacity.

Growth and development will take care of a lot of the idiosyncrasies that we are worried about," he said.

President Herbert Kent was in charge of the business session and Mrs. Robert Lozier, program chairman, introduced the speaker.

Refreshments were served by mothers of the second grade with Mrs. William Hanstern, chairman.

Panic Grips Berlin As Defenders Fight Among Themselves

By EDDY GILMOE

MOSCOW, April 24.—Panic and demoralization are spreading in the center of Berlin, with fighting taking place among the Nazi defenders, eye-witness accounts reaching Moscow today said.

"It's hell in there," a German civilian was quoted by the correspondent for Izvestia. "Shells are falling all over the place and there is fighting among the officers and men."

The civilian declared a divisional commander shot his driver when the latter suggested capitulation.

Red army and Polish troops have pushed deep enough and captured enough streets and avenues to set up a traffic control system, front advisers said.

Red army girls, in their customary role of traffic directors, were standing at numerous corners in the suburbs directing the flow of trucks—some of American make—in and out of the city.

The correspondent for Red Star told of battling down the avenues leading to the Wilhelmstrasse, and of white flags fluttering from windows along the Berlinerstrasse. On another nearby street 600 Germans surrendered, he said.

Seize Three Factories

The Russians seized a big factory which had been making parachutes, another turning out airplane engines, and a gas works.

Fires were reported raging in the Weissensee district, now behind the Red army.

Marshal Ivan S. Konev's mobile groups were reported wading into the environs of Potsdam, Berlin's western suburb, as Red army forces closed two arms of steel around the capital.

Izvestia said some German boys of 13 to 15 years had been thrown into the streets.

Another dispatch said Soviet troops were approaching numerous bridges, heavily mined and defended, over the Spree. Forward units apparently had not yet reached the region of the Jannow bridge, closest to Berlin's heart.

Great destruction from bombing was reported by all correspondents inside Berlin. Whole blocks were blasted down, they said.

German street cars carried loads of cobblestones to add to barricades inside the city.

Junction Near

Soviet tanks drove near the southern edges of the big Tempelhof airfield, and neared a junction with forces marching in from the east.

South of Berlin, there were no indications yet that Russian units had crossed the Elbe in the direction of Leipzig, but this should not be discounted as a possibility. The Soviets were nine to 11 miles from Dresden.

Several Russian correspondents said German artillery was firing on Germans who tried to retreat in the battle for Berlin.

CONGRESS ISSUES WARNING AGAINST SHELTERING NAZIS

WASHINGTON, April 24.—A warning to neutral countries against offering sanctuary to perpetrators of Nazi war atrocities came from the house foreign affairs committee today.

The committee approved for floor consideration a resolution making it United States policy to go into neutral countries, regardless of treaties, to pursue and capture enemy war criminals.

The resolution, introduced by Rep. King (D-Calif.) must be approved by both branches of Congress. It does not have the force of law but serves merely as a congressional expression to the government.

As demands were voiced on Capitol Hill for a harsh Nazi peace, the Germans themselves read a solemn warning that ruthless pursuit and punishment await those who mistreat Allied prisoners.

The United States announced it had accepted a German offer to detain American prisoners of war in camps where they may be liberated by advancing Allied armies.

Planes Drop Leaflets

The warning against further atrocities and those already committed was showered upon the Reich in leaflets bearing the facsimile signatures of President Truman, Prime Minister Churchill and Marshal Stalin.

Any person, they said, "of whatever service or rank in whose charge Allied prisoners of war, internees or deported citizens have been placed" will be held individually responsible "no less than the German high command" and competent Germany authorities.

"Any person guilty of mistreating or allowing any Allied prisoners of war, internees or deported citizens to be mistreated, whether in battle zone, on lines of communication, in a camp, hospital, prison or elsewhere, will be ruthlessly pursued and brought to punishment," the leaflets declared.

As evidence mounted of atrocities committed within Germany, several legislators here said they have become convinced a tough peace settlement is essential.

Rep. Price (D-Ill.), elected to Congress while serving in the Army, asserted:

"We will just have to stand guard over there and wipe out every trace of the Nazi philosophy, which has poisoned the minds of so many Germans."

Up to 65,000 American soldiers still are in Nazi hands.

Elmer Davis, office of War Information director just returned from Europe, said Germans will be told "plenty" about the horrors within Nazi concentration camps. He added it would be part of their re-education.

Ministers Arrange Prayer Meditation During Conference

Church bells—calling the citizens of Salem to prayer for a peaceful world—will ring at noon each day during the United Nations' San Francisco conference, the Salem Ministerial association announced today.

In keeping with a proclamation by Governor Lausche, a special noon service will be held tomorrow in the Presbyterian church in memory of the late Franklin D. Roosevelt. The time here will coincide with the opening of the peace conference in California.

Each day following, throughout the conference, the churches will sound their bells to call citizens to a time of prayer for peace. This will continue for two weeks, the expected length of the sessions in California.

Rev. Robert Mosher will be in charge of the service at the Presbyterian church tomorrow. It will last 15 minutes, with other ministers participating.

Killed In Philippines

EAST LIVERPOOL, April 24.—Sgt. Robert Doyle K. Simpson, 33, infantryman, was killed in action March 11 on Luzon. Three brothers survive.

Sgt. Richard F. VanArsdale, husband of Vera T. of East Rochester, was wounded in Germany.

Three Allied Armies Drive Toward Alps

(By The Associated Press)

PARIS, April 24.—The three-armed assault on the outer ramparts of the German Alpine redoubt burst across the Danube at a third place today, overran the traffic center of Ulm and carried to within 105 miles of Hitler's hideout at Berchtesgaden.

An American-Russian junction was expected momentarily in the center, splitting Germany.

(The French press agency, quoting "Moscow reports reaching London," said American and Russian troops had joined at Ellenburg, nine miles northeast of Leipzig.)

(Although there were indications early today that the formal announcement of the link-up—to be made from Washington, London and Moscow—was imminent, noon (Salem time), passed without indication as to when it would come.)

Troops of the American Third army pressed to within 93 miles of the Austrian strongholds of Linz and Salzburg, eastern gateways to the southern redoubt. The Seventh army closed down the last 50 miles toward Munich and the French First army advanced close to the Austrian frontier and reduced three large pockets behind the lines.

Ulm, second Wurttemberg city of 60,000, is on the Danube. It was the scene of one of Napoleon's most complete victories. It fell after a ten-mile overnight advance.

Lt. George Patton's powerful Third army made additional gains of 18 miles in the Regensburg area, army lines along the Elbe and east of Leipzig. Many correspondents believed preliminary contact with them had been made.

ceived in a strafing attack in Normandy.

Supreme headquarters, muffled on any word of a junction with the Russians pending announcements by the Big Three, could give no news of the American First and Ninth army divisions—more than 375,000 men—had been committed to the crucial battle by the American Third and Seventh armies and the French first.

German disintegration proceeded swiftly. During April alone, more than 1,015,000 prisoners have been captured by Gen. Eisenhower's nine western armies which since D-day have captured upward of 2,345,000 Germans.

In the north, the British intensified the siege of blazing Bremen and tightened an arc around Hamburg. Harburg, which lies across the broad Elbe south of Hamburg, was being cleaned up.

Yank Infantry, Armor Probe Foothills of Alps

The Seventh army's 44th division made the latest crossing of the Danube at Ebingen, 117 miles north-west of the Brenner Pass into Italy.

Infantry and armor poured into the Danube bridgehead at Dillingen, probing into the foothills of the Alps. The Hellstet (12th Armored) captured an airfield at Kiecklingen along with three towns.

The Century (100th) division captured an 80-acre V-bomb plant intact.

The Third and Fourth Infantry divisions marched across the Danube bridge at Dillingen to within a short distance of a prison camp where at least 500 American prisoners of war were caged.

A junction splitting Germany in two was expected momentarily between the Russians and the American First and Ninth armies. Stalin's troops were on the Elbe at Muehlberg, 22 miles from first army forces east of Leipzig.

Third Army Last Reported 50 Miles From Munich

The Third arm was within 12 miles of the Danube and Regensburg and within 18 miles of Vala-halla, the temple where the Germans placed busts of their heroes and pagan gods.

The Seventh army was closest to Munich, last reported 50 miles away, and beating down the last 10 miles to Ulm. The French tightened their hold on the Black forest pocket and moved within 15 miles of Austria.

DEMOCRATS LEAVE 3 PLACES UNFILLED

Democrats last night formulated a party ticket for the approaching primaries and filled candidacies for all but three city offices, according to George McArthur, chairman.

The ticket as now compiled includes Norman Phillips for mayor, Alton M. Fenton, Frederick Koenreich and William Steefel candidates for councilmen at large.

James D. Aldom is a candidate for councilman in the second ward and Harold J. Astry in the third. Paul Gletcher will be a candidate in the fourth ward.

Astry is the only Democrat so far to file with the board of elections.

P. J. Dean, incumbent Perry township trustee, will seek re-election on the Democratic ticket, it is announced.

Harold Smith Is Named McKinley P. T. A. Leader

When the Parent-Teacher association of McKinley school met last night at the school these officers were named:

President, Harold Smith; vice president, Mrs. Albert Ward; secretary, Mrs. W. F. Ross; treasurer, Mrs. Clarence Schmid; council representative, George Frank. Lunch was served.

The next meeting is scheduled for 7:30 p. m. Monday, May 28.

Pic. Frank J. Kures, 20, Is Wounded In Germany

Pfc. Frank James Kures, 20, son of Mrs. Anna Kures, R. D. 2, Salem, was slightly wounded in action in Germany April 9, according to a War department telegram received by his mother.

A veteran of overseas duty since November, Pfc. Kures is a former employee of the Deming Co. He graduated from Salem high school and entered service in January, 1944.

He received basic training at Camp VanDorn, Miss. He was serving with the Seventh army in Germany when wounded. He previously had been stationed in France.

They Meet As Soldiers

Apprehension about the complications that may grow out of the meeting of the western Allies with Russian troops in Germany starts, significantly, with political misgivings.

If members of the victorious armies could meet as soldiers, there would be no misgivings, in other words. But it is feared they may try to convert each other, as ideologists.

The misgivings don't make sense. They are the result of that lopsided preoccupation with political affairs which sometimes threatens to be the curse of the 20th century.

Fortunately, soldiers in the field don't seem to have time to become a faction as preoccupied with politics as the civilians in whose name they fight—and it's a good bet the Russians, Americans, Britons and a smattering of the rest of the United Nations who have conquered Germany aren't giving ideologists more than a passing thought.

They are admiring each other's deeds and equipment. They are proud of an accomplishment which they performed together, an accomplishment none of them could have performed alone. They meet as soldiers who have defeated a common enemy. The political age in which they have been reared is a long way behind the fronts on which they have done their fighting. There is no politics in the face of danger—nothing but the common denominator of human courage.

It is hard to escape a feeling that apprehension about international politics and divergent ideologies is unworthy of the fighting men in whose behalf the apprehension is being voiced; that probably it hasn't even occurred to them that they are expected to share anything but the satisfaction of doing a hard job.

Caviar and Vodka

A long step in the cementing of firm international relations is brought to attention by Russian foresight in sending a shipload of caviar, vodka and other banquet supplies to San Francisco. Has our State department looked to its laurels in the culinary department?

There is no evidence, or at least none known to the public. Under wartime regulations, it is doubtful if San Francisco even will have an adequate supply of beefsteak and bourbon whisky. Nor has anything been said about the British fortifying their interests with emergency supplies of boiled mutton and Madeira; nor for that matter about the French equipping themselves with adequate stores of pate de foie gras and champagne.

Opinions differ on the intrinsic merits of caviar and vodka, but as symbols of Russian goodwill they are better known by far than such prosaic things as Dumbarton Oaks and Bretton Woods, which have been America's principal contributions—and, of course, a lot more digestible. If it is true, as reported, that the OPA intends to be adamant about extra ration points for San Francisco, caviar and vodka—especially caviar—might give Russia undue influence. A hungry man is in no condition to mull over the problems of international security until he has been fed.

If there is anything in the theory that people become what they eat, the true spirit of internationalism will be a blend of Chinese bird-nest soup, crepe Suzette, Irish whisky, hot tamales, grits, Canadian bacon, prime roast beef, beer, Yorkshire pudding and pumpkin pie, with just the proper trace of caviar in the right places and a beaker of vodka for a chaser. But no doubt the State department has thought of all this and laid in its own supplies, not overlooking the vitamins which threaten to become America's foremost contribution to the fortification of the inner man.

What Could Be Better?

In the wish to commemorate the late Franklin D. Roosevelt's life, the nation will make a grave mistake by not continuing the established custom of celebrating his birthday on Jan. 30 as the climax of a nationwide drive to collect funds for the aid of polio victims. In America, a tribute to humanitarianism has special appeal. The people's participation in this particular project of humanitarianism was an honest tribute to Mr. Roosevelt's courage and to his interest in human welfare. It was, moreover, the kind of tribute that brought real satisfaction as it was paid. There may be better ways to show respect for the late President, but it would be reckless disregard of a fine custom already in existence to overlook the possibility of making Jan. 30 an occasion each year to help those who are trying to follow his courageous example in surmounting the handicap of physical affliction. An observance is empty without continuous, living purpose, and in this case a fine purpose is already being served; it needs only to be continued.

Pax Aeronatica

Gen. Carl Spaatz, commander of United States Air Forces in the European and Mediterranean theaters, has admitted the damage to German cities now open to view was greater than he realized as he carried out strategic bombing plans. He believes future wars, if any, will be conducted through the air, particularly in early stages—and that American security and international security are bound up jointly in American air power.

In his book, "Air Power for Peace," Eugene E. Wilson, president of the Aeronautical Chamber of Commerce, uses the phrase "Pax Aeronatica" to say the same thing. As possessor of the greatest production potentialities and the most powerful air force, the United States can keep the peace, he believes. "We Americans face the challenge to make air power synonymous with peace," he declares. "Air power as we have seen it function in war has been devastating. Air power dedicated to peace can be correspondingly beneficial."

The Stars Say

For Wednesday, April 25.

A DAY of strange, sudden and perhaps unprecedented events is presaged by a most interesting configuration, causing excitement, commotion, adventure and change, of far-reaching effect. This, while seemingly coming like "a bolt from the blue," will succeed only by deep analysis, clever plans, laid on new and original ideas with ingenuity and inventiveness.

There may be antagonism and opposition from, probably, friend and foe alike, but with adherence to public and private codes, vigilance and sound sense in making contracts and agreements, all should thrive and possibly culminate in dramatic romance and adventure.

If It Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is are on the brink of an exciting, thrilling and adventurous year, in which sudden events or openings may have the nature of a whirlwind, affecting the life radically, dramatically and with far-reaching culminations. However, this must all be captured by sound ideas, well-developed and practical plans, in which all rules and regulations, especially of public or community interest, are rigidly adhered to. But originality, inventiveness and out-of-the-ordinary skill or ingenuity, are destined to bring happy fulfillments, with romance and high adventure in the offing. Sign all writings with particular care.

A child born on this day should possess much skill and ingenuity of an exceptional quality, creative ability or dramatic force, probably reaching the limelight or public position against opposition. A romantic and adventurous life is seen.

Skin Grafting In Damage From Burns

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M. D.

ONE of the chief dangers arising from burns is the possible occurrence of large scar formation during healing. The amount of scarring will, of course, vary with the extent of the damage done to the tissues. Then deformity results from contraction or shrinkage of the skin when healing takes place.

Thus, in the treatment of burns it is important to replace the lost skin by means of skin grafting or transplanting.

In skin grafting there are certain definite things which are necessary so that the implanted skin will take, that is, that the skin will grow.

Free From Infection

To begin with, the burned area must be practically free from infection before the grafting is done. This can be brought about by using

O why, o why, did she take off that wrapper while the shades are still up . . . those luscious curves on a loaf of Bond Wheat Bread are enough to turn any man's thoughts to eating! Yes, professor, we do sympathize with you . . . but here's a suggestion. Why not dash out for your own loaf of Bond Wheat Bread right now—and have a sandwich ing dressings of sterile salt solution alternating with dressings of a chlorine solution for a period of 24 hours before the graft is done.

If there is any excess scar tissue present it should be removed with a sharp razor with as little injury as possible to the underlying tissues. Following the removal of this tissue, all bleeding must be completely checked. This can be accomplished by using warm salt-solution packs for a few minutes. In some cases it may be advisable to apply gauze soaked in epinephrine since epinephrine causes contraction of the blood vessels and checks the bleeding. The skin area from which the grafts are to be taken must be cleaned with some acceptable antiseptic.

In recent years, an instrument known as a dermatome has been invented which makes it possible to cut off large pieces of skin three to five inches across which are uniform in thickness. This instrument has made it possible to carry out skin grafting much more successfully.

Sewed Into Place

The skin graft is spread over the raw burned surface easily and is sewed into place with fine silk thread. The graft is then covered with a non-irritating dressing, such as vaseline gauze. Then a firm bandage is applied.

The dressing is left in place for about four days unless there is some pain, tenderness, or fever. Then the wound is inspected at once to determine if any infection has developed, and if infection is present, proper treatment is given. Skin grafting is not a difficult procedure, and should always be utilized without delay in large burns to keep deformities from developing.

They Meet As Soldiers

Apprehension about the complications that may grow out of the meeting of the western Allies with Russian troops in Germany starts, significantly, with political misgivings.

If members of the victorious armies could meet as soldiers, there would be no misgivings, in other words. But it is feared they may try to convert each other, as ideologists.

The misgivings don't make sense. They are the result of that lopsided preoccupation with political affairs which sometimes threatens to be the curse of the 20th century.

Fortunately, soldiers in the field don't seem to have time to become a fraction as preoccupied with politics as the civilians in whose name they fight—and it's a good bet the Russians, Americans, Britons and a smattering of the rest of the United Nations who have conquered Germany aren't giving ideologists more than a passing thought.

They are admiring each other's deeds and equipment. They are proud of an accomplishment which they performed together, an accomplishment none of them could have performed alone. They meet as soldiers who have defeated a common enemy. The political age in which they have been reared is a long way behind the fronts on which they have done their fighting. There is no politics in the face of danger—nothing but the common denominator of human courage.

It is hard to escape a feeling that apprehension about international politics and divergent ideologies is unworthy of the fighting men in whose behalf the apprehension is being voiced; that probably it hasn't even occurred to them that they are expected to share anything but the satisfaction of doing a hard job.

Caviar and Vodka

A long step in the cementing of firm international relations is brought to attention by Russian foresight in sending a shipload of caviar, vodka and other banquet supplies to San Francisco. Has our State department looked to its laurels in the culinary department?

There is no evidence, or at least none known to the public. Under wartime regulations, it is doubtful if San Francisco even will have an adequate supply of beefsteak and bourbon whisky. Nor has anything been said about the British fortifying their interests with emergency supplies of boiled mutton and Madeira; nor for that matter about the French equipping themselves with adequate stores of pate de foie gras and champagne.

Opinions differ on the intrinsic merits of caviar and vodka, but as symbols of Russian goodwill they are better known by far than such prosaic things as Dumbarton Oaks and Bretton Woods, which have been America's principal contributions—and, of course, a lot more digestible. If it is true, as reported, that the OPA intends to be adamant about extra ration points for San Francisco, caviar and vodka—especially caviar—might give Russia undue influence. A hungry man is in no condition to mull over the problems of international security until he has been fed.

If there is anything in the theory that people become what they eat, the true spirit of internationalism will be a blend of Chinese bird-nest soup, crepe Suzette, Irish whiskey, hot tamales, grits, Canadian bacon, prime roast beef, beer, Yorkshire pudding and pumpkin pie, with just the proper trace of caviar in the right places and a beaker of vodka for a chaser. But no doubt the State department has thought of all this and laid in its own supplies, not overlooking the vitamins which threaten to become America's foremost contribution to the fortification of the inner man.

What Could Be Better?

In the wish to commemorate the late Franklin D. Roosevelt's life, the nation will make a grave mistake by not continuing the established custom of celebrating his birthday on Jan. 30 as the climax of a nationwide drive to collect funds for the aid of polio victims. In America, a tribute to humanitarianism has special appeal. The people's participation in this particular project of humanitarianism was an honest tribute to Mr. Roosevelt's courage and to his interest in human welfare. It was, moreover, the kind of tribute that brought real satisfaction as it was paid. There may be better ways to show respect for the late President, but it would be reckless disregard of a fine custom already in existence to overlook the possibility of making Jan. 30 an occasion each year to help those who are trying to follow his courageous example in surmounting the handicap of physical affliction. An observance is empty without continuous, living purpose, and in this case a fine purpose is already being served; it needs only to be continued.

Pax Aeronautica

Gen. Carl Spaatz, commander of United States Air Forces in the European and Mediterranean theaters, has admitted the damage to German cities now open to view was greater than he realized as he carried out strategic bombing plans. He believes future wars, if any, will be conducted through the air, particularly in early stages—and that American security and international security are bound up jointly in American air power.

In his book, "Air Power for Peace," Eugene E. Wilson, president of the Aeronautical Chamber of Commerce, uses the phrase "Pax Aeronautica" to say the same thing. As possessor of the greatest production potentialities and the most powerful air force, the United States can keep the peace, he believes. "We Americans face the challenge to make air power synonymous with peace," he declares. "Air power as we have seen it function in war has been devastating. Air power dedicated to peace can be correspondingly beneficial."

The Stars Say

For Wednesday, April 25.

A DAY of strange, sudden and perhaps unprecedented events is presaged by a most interesting configuration, causing excitement, commotion, adventure and change, of far-reaching effect. This, while seemingly coming like "a bolt from the blue," will succeed only by deep analysis, clever plans, laid on new and original ideas with ingenuity and inventiveness.

There may be antagonism and opposition from, probably, friend and foe alike, but with adherence to public and private codes, vigilance and sound sense in making contracts and agreements, all should thrive and possibly culminate in dramatic romance and adventure.

If It Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is are on the brink of an exciting, thrilling and adventurous year, in which sudden events or openings may have the nature of a whirlwind, affecting the life radically, dramatically and with far-reaching culminations. However, this must all be captured by sound ideas, well-developed and practical plans, in which all rules and regulations, especially of public or community interest, are rigidly adhered to. But originality, inventiveness and out-of-the-ordinary skill or ingenuity, are destined to bring happy fulfillments, with romance and high adventure in the offing. Sign all writings with particular care.

A child born on this day should possess much skill and ingenuity of an exceptional quality, creative ability or dramatic force, probably reaching the limelight or public position against opposition. A romantic and adventurous life is seen.

THE AMERICAN HOUSE

By Virginia Chase

XII

As the summer passed, Mr. Cutter ate more, slept more, and worked less. Any hour of the day you might find him dozing on his stool, his face supported by his two good hands. If you went to tell him that the water was low, he would pick up his pen and nod with weary, harassed look as if to say he would come when he could ever get clear of what he was doing. Half an hour later, when you went again, you couldn't find him.

He began to get irritable. One of his favorite pastimes was poring over the hotel register, especially its early pages.

"I don't like the finger the copper paper while I read, Mr. Cutter," he would say to take both that and the register less and less willingly. Even after no more than 10 minutes he began to tap on his desk and beckon. When I put them back he would straighten them with exaggerated care and then would return to his nap or his circle.

"I need to complain a good deal about him," he crabbily, I said, vehemently. "And Papa is always just to me to him."

"Your father is nice to everyone," my mother reproved me.

But she must have noticed, as I did, that my father was especially nice to Mr. Cutter. Every noon he took the paper to him, and every evening he sat with him for a time in the office, though they seldom talked.

"Mama," she said one day, looking puzzled. "Is Mr. Cutter Ada's father?"

"Of course not," my mother answered.

"She likes him anyway," Sue argued.

***

This was getting more and more apparent to us all. She had made him a beaded napkin ring, and then undisturbed by his indifference, a sweet-grass basket for his handkerchiefs.

"All of us like him," my mother said, being very careful.

"I don't," Julia put in.

"But Ada shows it," Sue persisted. "She ought not to do that, ought she, Mama?"

"It isn't up to us to pass judgment," my mother said. "Of course, if it were one of you girls...."

My cheeks warmed. I showed how I liked Benjamin. I showed it all the time. But Benjamin—whose eyes always went wandering off after Ada—didn't notice. He didn't notice anything any more. He was growing very glum. Once he had done his pumping after supper while Ada was washing the dishes, and they had a great time playing each other.

"You're slower than cold molasses," Ada would taunt.

"Slow, am I?" He would go faster and faster, his big muscles bulging. "A slow-poke, am I?" His face would get red and his breath come hard. Sometimes he wouldn't stop until the water came bubbling from the overflow in the sink. After that he would sit down on the stairs, blocking her way when she started up.

"You're slow, Mr. Cutter," he would say to me, "Mister."

"Did you say something?" he would ask, seizing her wrists. "I don't hear very good tonight."

But Ada had no time for him now. Every spare minute went in making things for Mr. Cutter or just sitting on the steps outside of the office.

Benjamin began to do his pumping in the morning. He didn't have a thing to say to Mr. Cutter. If there was a message that had to go to the office, he sent it by bus. Day after day he would drive out alone in a carriage, not even seeing me waiting—hoping on the steps.

Mrs. Guptill kept her eyes on everything Mr. Cutter did, ready to find fault. It wasn't just that he was lazy, she said. He was wasteful, too. He left the office inkwell open. At meals he reordered, then neglected to clean his plate. Moreover, he was using too much kerosene. Every morning Ada brought his lamp down, bone dry. All of the other lamps were more than half full. Such extravagance! He must be burning it all night, she said.

Suddenly one day she noticed something. The lamp was bone dry, but the wick barely needed trimming. It didn't make sense. Something funny was going on, she decided.

She lit into Ada, demanding an explanation. Ada flared right back. Let people mind their own business....

This had gone far enough, my mother decided.

That night she spoke to my father about it. "Mr. Cutter is turning this place upside down," she said, "and I think you should discharge him."

"It isn't his fault, is it?" my father demanded.

"Maybe not, directly," my mother granted. "But he is the disturbing influence. Besides, we haven't enough business to warrant his staying."

"Oh, I don't know about that," my father said, picking up his paper. He never liked to face unpleasant facts.

"I know," my mother said. She had gone through a lot that summer, and her patience was getting sorely tried. "He's no earthly good, anyway, and it's costing us money to keep him. I'm going to insist that you send him back." My mother seldom took a real stand.

There was a long, strained silence.

My father got up and folded his paper. "I can't send him back," he said quietly. "I couldn't even if I made up my mind to it."

He went out and closed the door.

NAZI PROPAGANDA DECLARES HITLER IS STILL IN BERLIN

(By Associated Press)

LONDON, April 24—The German radio said today Adolf Hitler has decided to remain in Berlin, whose streets were echoing with the blasts of Soviet bombs and shells as Red army troops drove for the city's heart.

"Many people were afraid the German lines before Berlin would not hold against the Russian onslaught but now it has been shown that these lines did hold fast after all," the broadcast said.

"The Fuehrer is directing the battle from the front line in Berlin and he has thrown in all available forces to stem the Bolshevik onslaught," the broadcast added.

Other Nazi broadcasts indicated Propaganda Chief Dr. Paul Joseph Goebbels also was in Berlin.

Yesterday, a DNB broadcast mentioned a new commander of the Nazi troops in Berlin previously reported under Lt. Gen. Bruno von Hauenschild, whose fate was not explained.

The name of the new commander was heard here as "Lt. Col. Remer."

Authoritative London quarters professed no knowledge—at least for publication—of Hitler's whereabouts, but one reliable source expressed doubts that the Fuehrer, or even Goebbels, president of the capital, was in Berlin.

The split regional radio services caused conflicting reports to be given out by the Germans on the fighting in Berlin.

The Hamburg broadcasts claimed that the "Free Corps Adolf Hitler"—male and female office workers—were going out with pistols and rifles to take part in the battle.

These reports declared there still was an organized street fight, barricade by barricade, but the Paris radio reported that one of the capital's main power stations, as well as many subway stations, had been seized by the Russians and occupied by "foreign workers and German Communists."

ALERT MOTORISTS SELDOM IN WRECKS

The American Indian was constantly on the alert for signs that indicated dangers along his path of travel and interpreting those signs, according to Albert P. Morris, manager of the Columbiana County Motor club.

If automobile drivers would imitate the Indian when behind the wheel of their car, accidents on our streets and highways could be materially reduced.

Children playing beside the roadway, elderly pedestrians at intersections, or between intersections, drivers sitting in parked cars, visible exhaust smoke from parked cars, highway warning signs, school buses, school safety patrols on duty, railroad grade crossings, flashing traffic lights—these and many more are "Indian Signs," which should immediately warn drivers that there are dangers ahead of him which necessitate immediate caution and slowing down of his vehicle.

The driver who fails to observe these Indian Signs may suddenly find himself involved in an accident which could have been avoided had he interpreted the signs and handled his car accordingly.

There are nearly 14,000 newspapers published in the United States.

Wrap Overseas Packages Securely, Postoffice Says

Be sure to wrap those service-men's packages according to U.S. postal regulations.

That's the word today from Postmaster A. E. Beardmore, who emphatically reminds Salemites that improperly prepared shipments to servicemen, especially those out of this country, are not acceptable at the postoffice.

Boxes for overseas transmission should be stronger than containers used for parcels which do not leave our shores, he explained.

Because of the great distances these parcels must be transported and the handling and storage they must undergo, it is absolutely necessary that all articles for overseas be packed in boxes of wood, metal, solid fibreboard, or strong double-faced corrugated fibreboard.

Each box must be securely tied with strong cord, preferably by four separate pieces, two lengthwise and two crosswise, knotted at the crossings. Sealing the flaps with gummed tape where they meet strengthens the box but the use of such tape alone is not satisfactory since the tape loosens if the box becomes wet or exposed to moisture, he adds.

Boxes should contain sufficient cushioning so that the contents will be tightly packed to prevent any rattling or loosening of the articles within the box. Unless completely packed and tightly filled the boxes are likely to become crushed.

Questions, Answers On Canning Sugar

Q. When can I get canning sugar?

A. The War Price and Rationing board here in Salem will begin issuing sugar for canning on April 25.

Q. Will stamps in my ration book be made good for canning sugar this year?

A. No.

Q. How do I get canning sugar?

A. By filling out an application blank, which you can obtain from your local Rationing board at 429 E. State st., and attaching a "Spare Stamp 13" from War Ration Book Four for each member of your family covered by the application.

Q. What do I do with the completed application?

A. Return it to your board by mail. The board will not be able to act on applications immediately, so it will save your time as well as that of the board members if you mail your application.

Q. What does the Board do with the application?

A. The Board will go over your application and, based on your actual needs and on the regulation, issue five pound and one pound sugar coupons. The board will mail your coupons to you.

Q. What do I do with the sugar coupons?

A. You sign your name and write the number of your War Ration Book four on each of the five pound coupons. The coupons then can be used in any grocery store for buying canning sugar. Be sure to take Ration Book Four as well as the coupons when you go to the store to buy your sugar for canning.

Q. How much sugar will be issued this year per person and per family?

A. As much as the board determines you actually need, up to 20 pounds per person, or 160 pounds to a single family. For canning fruits or fruit juices, the allowance will be on the basis of one pound of sugar for each four quarts to be canned.

Q. Will any sugar be issued for making jellies, jams, relishes, catsup, etc.?

A. Within the maximum allowance, up to five pounds of sugar for each person named in the family application will be allowed for these items.

Q. How many applications for canning sugar may I make this year?

A. Only one covering your needs for the entire canning season. Deadline is Oct. 31.

New Candidates File

Three more Columbiana county Republicans have filed petitions to have their names placed on the primary election ballots July 31. The total for the county has now reached 21, most of whom are from Wellsville and East Liverpool.

New filings are Charles G. Gandy, candidate for treasurer in East Palestine; Phil C. Essas, also of East Palestine, candidate for mayor; for treasurer of the village of Columbiana, Charles B. Fuhrman.

Various types of cancer were recognized and described in 400 B. C. by Hippocrates.

A. As much as the board determines you actually need, up to 20 pounds per person, or 160 pounds to a single family. For canning fruits or fruit juices, the allowance will be on the basis of one pound of sugar for each four quarts to be canned.

Q. Will any sugar be issued for making jellies, jams, relishes, catsup, etc.?

A. Within the maximum allowance, up to five pounds of sugar for each person named in the family application will be allowed for these items.

Q. How many applications for canning sugar may I make this year?

A. Only one covering your needs for the entire canning season. Deadline is Oct. 31.

Salem War Finance Committee

FRISCO PARLEY WILL COST U. S. NEARLY $900,000

(By United Press)

The United Nations security conference at San Francisco will cost the U. S. Treasury some $900,000 to $1,000,000—equal to our war costs for only three to five minutes!

That's about as close as the State department's budget estimators can come to figuring out what the United States, as host nation to 46 other countries, will shell out for expenses.

This government will foot the whole bill, except for the travel, housing, food and incidental expenses of the conference delegates and advisers of the other United Nations.

The cost to the United States, aside from the expenses of the American delegation and advisers, will include bills for small mountains of equipment, all the alterations required in conference buildings (and their removal afterward) and the salaries of the 200 to 300 persons in the conference secretariat.

State department officials say the final cost of the affair will depend on the length. They guess that the conference can last from four to 10 weeks and estimate, therefore, that $900,000 will be the minimum figure.

Money for the conference will come from the State department's international conference fund for 1945. It originally totaled $1,500,000. Earlier conferences, such as the international civil aviation parley at Chicago, have whittled it down to $800,000.

If conference expenses go beyond $800,000, the department will have to ask Congress for money. "We don't want to have to do that," a budget expert said.

"Are You There Comrade?"

(Signal Corps-NEA Radio-Telephoto)

Somewhere along the Elbe river bridgehead a Russian first lieutenant, liberated by the Ninth Army's 83rd division, establishes radio contact via a U. The Reds acknowledged contact and demanded the lieutenant's name, unit and commander, but apparently became wary and broke off conversation before revealing their location.

UNITED NATIONS TO STUDY PEACE PLAN ADOPTED BY DUMBARTON OAKS GROUP

(By United Press)

The world organization under the Dumbarton Oaks plan—the plan up for decision at San Francisco—would be composed of the following parts:

GENERAL ASSEMBLY—All member nations would be represented on this with one vote each. Russia wants three votes. Its most important job: election of non-permanent members of security council and all members of the Economic and Social Council. Other responsibilities limited to recommendations on any subjects and apportionment of expenses among member nations.

SECURITY COUNCIL—Would be composed of 11 member nations. One vote each. The United States, Great Britain, Soviet Russia, China and France would have permanent seats; the other six members would be elected by the assembly by a two-thirds vote for two-year terms and would not be eligible for immediate re-election. It would be the most important and powerful body in the organization, charged with maintaining world peace. It would be empowered to investigate disputes; to call for peaceful settlements; to determine whether ANY situation threatens the peace; to take diplomatic, economic and other measures to enforce its decisions; and—as a last resort—to employ air, naval or land forces to maintain or restore peace.

INTERNATIONAL COURT OF JUSTICE—The principal judicial organ which would give judgments in disputes referred to it which can be settled by rules of law. Detailed plans for this will be worked out at San Francisco, but it probably will follow the pattern of the old World Court which had 15 judges serving nine-year terms.

ECONOMIC AND SOCIAL COUNCIL—Eighteen members would be chosen by the assembly and to serve for three years with one vote for each member. There would be NO permanent members. Working under authority of the assembly, it would facilitate solutions of international economic, social and other humanitarian problems, promote respect for human rights and fundamental freedoms, and recommend coordination of activities of other international organizations.

ECONOMIC, SOCIAL AND OTHER COMMISSIONS—Would be composed of experts in specialized fields. To be set up by the economic and social council for technical advice to that council.

MILITARY STAFF COMMITTEE—Composed of the chiefs of staff of the permanent members of the security council or their representatives. It would advise the council on all questions relating to military requirements, to the employment and command of forces placed at the council's disposal, to the regulation of armaments, and to possible disarmament.

ARMED FORCES—To be determined by special agreements that will be subject to ratification by signatory states in accordance with their constitutions and approval by the security council. Each member would pledge itself to make certain armed forces available to the council on call, plus special national air force contingents for urgent combined enforcement action.

LEAVES FROM A WAR CORRESPONDENT'S NOTEBOOK

—by Hal Boyle

WITH U. S. 69TH DIVISION. Germany—Three doughboys drafted a Hungarian general as an unofficial "no-top" to disarm 780 Hungarians who had walked in to give themselves up.

The three—Staff Sergt. Jack Weingast, Brooklyn; Pfc. Kenneth Sellers of Chicago, and Pvt. Donald Batt, New York City—were the sole guards on German army warehouses containing hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of Nazi champagne, cognac and food supplies.

The Hungarians marched voluntarily to the warehouse area, which had been turned into a prison camp.

"The general," said Weingast, "threw up the rest of the Hungarian prisoners and got them to toss onto a pile any hardware they happened to be carrying."

Three other soldiers by trigger-quick action saved the waterworks. "If this city of 50,000 from being blown up by Nazi saboteurs."

"We got in here right after the first tanks and found the telephone switchboard in the city hall still working," said Maj. William P. Sheehan, military government officer to the 69th division of Lewis town, Pa.

"A phone call came into the burgomeister's office from an anonymous civilian warning that the Nazis were sending men to demolish the waterworks."

"I called for volunteers to try to save it. Three boys drove through sniper fire in the dark to the waterworks. They got there just in time and we had a little fight with the Nazis. They shot one German soldier and captured two other soldiers and three civilians."

"We also got a tip that a German general had holed up in a basement with his staff."

"The same boys offered to help capture them and we set out with a jeepload of other soldiers. We sent a civilian into the cellar of a German home asking the general to give up, but he sent out word he would never surrender."

"We sent in another ultimatum and he came out with his staff. The first thing he did was complain that he had only one orderly and demanded another immediately. So we took away the one he had."

Naumburg is a hotbed of Nazism and still full of underground elements.

Major League Moguls Considering New Commissioner Today

O'Connor, Frick, Chandler, Bricker, Byrnes And Farley Rumored Nominees For Job

By HAROLD HARRISON

CLEVELAND, April 24.—Owners of the major leagues' 16 baseball teams were to lock themselves in a Hotel Cleveland room today and, if some of them have their way, they'll stay there until they select a successor to the late Kenesaw Mountain Landis as high commissioner of the sport.

If they agree on someone to handle the $50,000 a year job, they will have taken just one day less than five months to make the choice.

There were almost as many persons mentioned in lobby gossip as there were magnates at the conference.

Procedure for the day's sessions was this:

A four-man committee—Don Barnes of the St. Louis Browns, Alva Bradley of the Cleveland Indians, Phil Wrigley of the Chicago Cubs and Sam Breadon of the St. Louis Cardinals—which has been considering a long list of possible choices—was to meet first. They have been attempting to agree on a recommendation to the membership and that's what they hoped to do in this final session.

Two hours later the committee was to join the full group from the American and National leagues and if 12 votes from a possible 16 can be mustered for one man, the Commissioner will be chosen.

Although one group of owners expressed belief they should stay in session until they can reach an agreement, some of the "lobby sitters" considered it significant that most of the owners have their train reservations to leave Cleveland tonight.

Ford Frick, president of the National league, who barely missed being chosen at a February meeting, was an early arrival yesterday. He insisted, however, he spent the day in his room reading.

Leslie O'Connor, secretary to Landis, who has been running the Commissioner's office since the judge's death, didn't arrive until a few hours before the meeting. He also has been mentioned prominently for the job although he once said he didn't want it.

O'Connor, Frick and Will Harridge, president of the American league, have been serving as a three-man committee and it was believed that setup would be continued if agreement failed to materialize today.

There were plenty of others mentioned in the typical baseball gossip. U. S. Senator A. B. (Happy) Chandler of Kentucky was reported in a receptive mood. Former Postmaster James A. Farley of New York had his supporters but most of them seemed to think Farley wouldn't take it because of salary matters. War Manpower Commissioner Paul V. McNutt of Indiana, former governor John W. Bricker of Ohio and former War Mobilization Director James Byrnes also had some lobby votes.

The possibility also was expressed last night that if the owners were unable to agree on a man or unable to get him, they might name a duration commissioner.

O'Connor seemed to be as good a bet as any to hold the job temporarily.

Baseball's Iodine List On Dangerous Side For Three Pennant Winning Outfits

By JACK HAND

Baseball's iodine list assumed serious proportions today with such key men as Joe Cronin of the Red Sox, Joe Medwick of the Giants, Jimmy Fox of the Phillies, Eddie Miller of the Reds and Hershel Martin and Mike Garbar of the Yankees on the sidelines.

Loss of Cronin, perhaps for the season, upset Boston's infield plans. When the Skipper broke his leg Thursday he was playing third base and Acting Manager Del Baker used Rockies Nick Polly and Jack Tobin at the position in recent losing games.

Medwick was unable to open the season in left field for the New York Nationals, yielding to Freshman Steve Filipowicz because of a back injury.

Fox, counted in Freddy Fitzsimmons' plans as his regular first sacker, was able to play in few of the exhibition games because of sore feet and appeared only as a pinch hitter during the first week of the season as Jimmy Waddell took over his job. Regular Phil Second Baseman Fred Daniels was out as the result of a back operation.

Martin collided with Center Fielder Johnny Lindell chasing a long fly during the same game in which Cronin was hurt. Lindell's spikes clipped Martin a nasty cut across the nose and he was out of the weekend series in Washington.

Catcher Mike Garbar of the Yanks had to take a rest because of an ear infection, giving Herb Crompton and Bill Drescher a chance to break into the lineup.

Braves Hit Hard
Boston's Braves were hardest hit when Third Baseman Tom Nelson, Shortstop Whitey Wietelmann and Second Sacker Frank Drews and Eddie Joost were injured.

Nelson was sent home from spring training to have three teeth extracted in the hopes of curing a sore arm. Drews collided with Pitcher Al Javery in a camp game and hurt his knee. Joost chipped a bone in his right foot sliding into second. Wietelmann broke the little finger of his left hand and had the first two joints amputated after he had been hit by a line drive.

A fall on the ice in February broke Miller's left kneecap, giving Freshman Kermit Wahl a chance to play shortstop for Cincinnati.

Skeeter Webb of Detroit was forced from the lineup by a sprained muscle.

Steve Stephens of the Browns was benched by a jammed thumb for three days and a wrenched shoulder muscle kept Pete Gray, the out-of-control rookie, out of the Sox scores for a few games.

Monday was an open date in both leagues.

Sport Chatter
By HUGH FULLERTON, Jr.
NEW YORK, April 24.—Baseball has its problem of what to do about returning servicemen, but the guys who were frozen on the farm or on war jobs and then find it possible to play part of the season are giving the club owners a real headache.

Managers don't want to drop a fairly good player to make room for a man who may not be as good and a three-man "temporarily inactive" list doesn't give them much room for experimenting.

There's a campaign on now to increase this list. The "Three AA" circuits have their own rule which permits them to carry eight ex-servicemen who aren't counted in the player or salary limits until 15 days after they play their first game.

The majors don't have to worry about salary limits, of course, and also can try out eight players, but the lower leagues who need these men the most have to count them as soon as they go on the payroll.

Wright Going Strong
LONDON, April 24.—T. S. Willie Wright of Youngstown, O., outpointed Pvt. Guagliardo of New Orleans, La., to become Senior welterweight champion in a United Kingdom boxing tournament. More than 100 competed in the eight weight divisions.

Luke Sewell's Team Meets Tribe at Park

(By Associated Press)
CLEVELAND, April 24.—Manager Luke Sewell of Akron brings his Champion St. Louis Browns to League park today to open 1945 hostilities with Cleveland's tractable Tribe.

Cleveland fans were expected to appear in larger numbers than is usual for a Tuesday to see amazing Pete Gray, the one-armed Brownie outfielder. Both teams have one victory over Detroit, but the Browns have five losses to the Tribe's four.

Jim Baby is expected to throw for the Tribe with Nelson Potter on the mound for the Champs. Baby lost his first start to the Chicago White Sox.

Potter blanked the Tigers for eight innings in his inaugural only to lose the game one run in the ninth.

Major League Moguls Considering New Commissioner Today

O'Connor, Frick, Chandler, Bricker, Byrnes And Farley Rumored Nominees For Job

Baseball's Iodine List On Dangerous Side For Three Pennant Winning Outfits

By JACK HAND

Baseball's iodine list assumed serious proportions today with such key men as Joe Cronin of the Red Sox, Joe Medwick of the Giants, Jimmy Fox of the Phillies, Eddie Miller of the Reds and Hershel Martin and Mike Garbar of the Yankees on the sidelines.

Loss of Cronin, perhaps for the season, upset Boston's infield plans. When the Skipper broke his leg Thursday he was playing third base and Acting Manager Del Baker used Rockies Nick Polly and Jack Tobin at the position in recent losing games.

Nelson was sent home from spring training to have three teeth extracted in the hopes of curing a speech ail. Drews collided with Pitcher Al Javery in a camp game and hurt his knee. Jones chipped a bone in his right foot sliding into second. Wietelmann broke the little finger of his left hand and had the first two joints amputated after he had been hit by a line drive.

A fall on the ice in February broke Miller's left kneecap, giving Freshman Kermit Wahl a chance to play shortstop for Cincinnati.

Skeeter Webb of Detroit was forced from the lineup by a sprained muscle.

Vern Stephens of the Browns was benched by a strained thumb for three days and a wrenched shoulder muscle kept Pete Gray, the other rookie, out of the Sox scores for a few games.

Monday was an open date in both leagues.

Sport Chatter

By HUGH FULLERTON, Jr.

NEW YORK, April 24.—Baseball has its problem of what to do about returning servicemen, but the guys who were frozen on the farm or on war jobs and then find it possible to play part of the season are giving the club owners a real headache.

Managers don't want to drop a fairly good player to make room for a man who may not be as good and a three-man "temporarily inactive" list doesn't give them much room for experimenting.

There's a campaign on now to increase this list. The three "AA" circuits have their own rule which permits them to carry eight ex-service men who aren't counted in the player or salary limits until 15 days after they play their first game.

The majors don't have to worry about salary limits, of course, and also can try out eight players, but the lower leagues who need them men the most have to count them as soon as they go on the payroll.

Sorts and Shells
The White Sox five-game winning streak has fans talking about the Browns' nine-straight record at the start of last season. But back in 1934 the St. Louis Browns won 26 straight to start the Union Association season.

And in 1908 the New York Highlanders did so well early in the season that Ernest Barnard, later American league president, called them "the fastest team ever organized." They proved it by losing games so fast that by June 30 they were in last place and had a new manager.

Coach of the U. of Minnesota tennis is Phil Brain.

Service Dept.
Mc. Eddie Heuck, son of Leo, the Penn State boxing coach, has been returned to this country for hospitalization. He was severely burned when an oil stove exploded in his fox hole on the Western front.

Church Sent By Mail
LONDON—A complete church has been sent by parcel post to a prisoner-of-war camp in Germany. It arrived from Sweden in numbered 22. And two years ago, Henry, Jr. a Navy torpedo man, married a nurse on Jan. 22.

No Excuse Left
FORT WORTH, Tex.—There'll be no forgetting wedding anniversaries for Henry H. Alexander, Sr. and Henry, Jr. Twenty-eight years ago Henry, Jr. married a nurse on Jan. 22. And two years ago, Henry, Jr. a Navy torpedo man, married a nurse on Jan. 22.

Fight Results
Pittsburgh—Willie Russell, 146½, Columbus, knocked out Rene Cantero, Havana, 2.

Soccer Pyramid

Plenty of action spices soccer game as rival players boost a teammate into the air for a high one. A good soccer player has to be something of a climber, too.

Luke Sewell's Team Meets Tribe at Park

(By Associated Press)

CLEVELAND, April 24.—Manager Luke Sewell of Akron brings his Champion St. Louis Browns to League park today to open 1945 hostilities with Cleveland's tractable Tribe.

Cleveland fans were expected to appear in larger numbers than is usual for a Tuesday to see amazing Pete Gray, the one-armed Brownie outfielder. Both teams have one victory over Detroit, but the Browns have five losses to the Tribe's four. Jim Bagby is expected to throw for the Tribe with Nelson Potter on the mound for the Champs. Bagby lost his first start to the Chicago White Sox.

Potter blanked the Tigers for eight innings in his inaugural only to lose the game one run in the ninth.

Tribe May Lose Pitcher

CLEVELAND, April 24.—Cleveland Indian Pitcher Charles "Red" Embree disclosed last night he is scheduled to take a pre-induction physical examination May 15.

which will guarantee Polish-Russian collaboration. Poland and other neighboring states fall within the Russian sphere of influence.

Any solution must, from Moscow's standpoint, bind the Soviet and Poland in perpetual alliance. If it is agreed that this doesn't impinge on Polish sovereignty, then the problem becomes easier. In view of this it seems likely the conference may consider the idea that one way to deal with the situation would be to appoint an Allied commission to sit in Warsaw and satisfy the world that (1) the country isn't being Sovietized in advance of the plebiscite and (2) that the plebiscite itself is absolutely free.

Columbiana, N. Waterford Church Pastorale Filled

COLUMBIANA, April 24.—Rev. Ruckwald of Venus, Pa., has accepted the call extended by the Jerusalem Lutheran congregation here and Zion Lutheran church of New Waterford and plans to assume his new duties July 1.

Rev. Ruckwald, is now serving three congregations at Venus, Tionesta and Shippensburg, Pa. The Women's Republican club will hold a benefit card party at 8 p. m. Saturday at the American Legion home. Proceeds will be contributed for the Red Cross fund being raised for the purchase of a field ambulance for overseas by the Republican Women of Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ueslon have received word that their son, Pvt. Richard Ueslon, has arrived overseas and is with the Ninth army somewhere in Germany. His brother, Lieut. Olen Ueslon, has been transferred from Camp Swift, Texas, to Camp Rucker, Ala.

The W. S. C. S. of the Methodist church will hold a Mother-Daughter banquet at the church Wednesday, May 2. There will be a covdich at 6:30 after which Mrs. Paul Carter of Steubenville will be the guest speaker.

vive old wounds and create new breaks in party alignments in France.

Speculation was rampant whether Petaine might not make a great effort to clear himself and whether a large part of the French population which stuck by him after 1940 still would continue to support him.

There was speculation also whether Petaine might be left in Switzerland by the French to avoid the political embarrassments of his presence at the trial. It is generally expected, however, that he will continue to France in the shortest possible time.

The French chief of state of the Vichy regime, his wife, and several companions crossed the border at St. Margrethen, near the eastern end of Lake Constance.

Petaine declared himself willing to surrender in France and stand trial, it was announced.

FOOD TO STRENGTHEN THE NATION

It is a well known fact that a deficiency of Vitamin and Minerals in the diet of the average American family existed before the war. Although some improvements have been made in certain foods, it is believed that the deficiency still exists because of the scarcity of some foods.

Regardless of rationing and food shortages it is possible for every housewife to supply her family with balanced meals, although it will require some effort on her part to carefully select and combine the foods that are rich in nutritional value.

Bread is an outstanding example of what can be accomplished with a non-rationed food at low cost! As all housewives know, enriched bread is high in nutritional value and it combines well with almost every other food. There are many ways of combining bread with meat and other rationed foods that not only help to make ration points go farther, but increase the Vitamin and Mineral content.

Enriched Bread may be used to make appetizing dishes for every meal including breakfast, lunch, dinner, picnics parties and desserts. In order to get the maximum food value, it is well to choose the bread containing the highest enrichment. In this community it's Keystone Bread for it contains more Vitamins and Minerals than any other bread that can be bought. Keystone Bread is enriched with extra Vitamins and Minerals to the highest standards set by the United States Government which is 50% greater than the minimum requirement. It is an outstanding contribution toward the Government's program to strengthen the nation.—Adv.

HEAR HITLER MADE RUNDSTEDT PRIVATE

(By United Press)

STOCKHOLM, April 24.—The Stockholm Tidningen reported today from a "special source in Berlin" that Adolf Hitler tore shoulder ornaments off Field Marshal Von Rundstedt, threw them in his face and reduced him to the rank of a private soldier in a rage at the American capture of the Remagen bridge intact.

The Swedish newspaper said panic existed in Germany because of both the catastrophic war situation and the mad razing of Hitler.

The story said the Fuehrer's condition caused many high government officials in Berlin who had been ordered to report to the national redoubt area in the south to change their minds and disappear "in a northeasterly direction."

According to this report, the seat of the German government has been moved to Salzburg.

Travelers arriving at Malmo declared SS troops machinegunned hunger demonstrators in Hamburg two days ago, killing 30 and wounding many others.

Pfc. Lipe of Columbiana Wounded; Brother Missing

COLUMBIANA, April 24.—Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Hitchcock have received word from the War department that their son, Pfc. Wayne R. Lipe, was wounded in action in Germany April 10.

He entered the service in September, 1944. Another brother, Staff Sgt. Robert Lipe, has been missing in action since Dec. 1, 1943, and another brother, Sergt. Willis Lipe is stationed in Germany.

Wheat Prices Highest

WASHINGTON, April 24.—Wheat prices now are the highest in 20 years, reflecting increased war demands, the Bureau of Agricultural Economics reported today. In a summary of the 1945 wheat crop outlook, BAE said a very large crop this year probably would lower prices but that "with good demand in prospect prices may be expected to continue at relatively high levels."

Surviving, besides her husband and son here, are three sons and a daughter.

Democratic Senators Pledge Truman Support

WASHINGTON, April 24.—President Truman met with 38 Democratic senators today to receive a pledge of all-out party support.

Every faction within the Democratic membership of the senate was represented at the 15-minute meeting at the White House.

Sen. Hill of Alabama, party whip in the senate, said every Democratic senator now in the capital attended the meeting.

Hill presented resolutions adopted by the senate conference last Friday pledging the party's good will, cooperation and support.

The White House had no information on whether Russian Foreign Commissar V. M. Molotov would all on the President again today.

The conference with the Democratic leadership of the senate followed meetings last week with spokesmen for the Republican minority who offered to consult with the President at any time in an effort to avoid legislative controversy by ironing out differences in advance.

GOVERNMENT PUTS MEAT SUBSIDY UP

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 24.—The government sought today to put more meat on the nation's tables by decreeing a $34,000,000 price relief program for packers and new controls to spread supplies evenly.

Prices housewives pay for meat are not affected.

The $34,000,000—mostly in increased subsidies—will be paid at that annual rate to slaughterers to ease a "squeeze" many claim is forcing them out of business.

The objective of the new distribution control system is to divert more livestock to federally-inspected packing houses, and thus allow more meat to move across state lines to areas of scarcity.

Says Nazi Atrocities In Nazis Unbelievable

BUCHENWALD, Germany, April 24.—Eight American congressmen agreed today after inspecting the horrors of Buchenwald prison camp that the evidence of Nazi atrocities committed there exceed the wildest flights of imagination.

"This is the most horrible thing that anyone could conceive," said Rep. Carter Manasco (D-Ala.) after he and his companions had been shown around the camp—where emaciated bodies of the Nazis' victims are still stacked like cordwood, where men hung on spikes like sides of beef until they died, and where bodies by the hundreds were burned in furnaces.

STRIKE IS ENDED AT AKRON RUBBER PLANT

AKRON, April 24.—Production at the B. F. Goodrich plant progressed toward normal today after CIO-United Rubber Workers voted to comply with a Regional War Labor board back-to-work order.

A company spokesman reported two-thirds of the normal complement of 7,000 day shift workers were back at their jobs and that full production probably would be reached this afternoon.

The walkout had kept some 16,000 employees idle since Friday and caused a loss of nearly 3,000,000 pounds of rubber products.

Rev. Mosher Will Start Fourth Year At Friends

Rev. Robert E. Mosher, pastor of the First Friends church, has accepted a call from his congregation to remain another year. He will begin his fourth year as pastor of the church the first of September.

Besides his pastoral duties, Rev. Mosher writes comments on the International Sunday school lesson for the Evangelical Friend, official church paper of Ohio Yearly meeting of Friends, and is a trustee of Cleveland Bible college. He is president of the Salem Ministerial association.

which will guarantee Polish-Russian collaboration. Poland and other neighboring states fall within the Russian sphere of influence.

Any solution must, from Moscow's standpoint, bind the Soviet and Poland in perpetual alliance. If it is agreed that this doesn't impinge on Polish sovereignty, then the problem becomes easier. In view of this it seems likely the conference may consider the idea that one way to deal with the situation would be to appoint an Allied commission to sit in Warsaw and satisfy the world that (1) the country isn't being Sovietized in advance of the plebiscite and (2) that the plebiscite itself is absolutely free.

Columbiana, N. Waterford Church Pastorate Filled

COLUMBIANA, April 24.—Rev. Rueckwald of Venus, Pa., has accepted the call extended by the Jerusalem Lutheran congregation here and Zion Lutheran church of New Waterford and plans to assume his new duties July 1.

Rev. Rueckwald, is now serving three congregations at Venus, Tunka and Shippenville, Pa. The Women's Republican club will hold a benefit card party at 8 p. m. Saturday at the American Legion home. Proceeds will be contributed for the Red Cross fund being raised for the purchase of a field ambulance for overseas by the Republican Women of Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ueslton have received word that their son, Pvt. Richard Ueslton, has arrived overseas and is with the Ninth army somewhere in Germany. His brother, Lieut. Glen Ueslton, has been transferred from Camp Swift, Texas, to Camp Rucker, Ala.

The W. S. C. S. of the Methodist church will hold a Mother-Daughter banquet at the church Wednesday, May 2. There will be a coverdish at 6:30 after which Mrs. Paul Carter of Steubenville will be the guest speaker.

COLUMBIANA, April 24.—Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Hitchcock have received word from the War department that their son, Pfc. Wayne R. Lipe, was wounded in action in Germany April 10.

He entered the service in September, 1944. Another brother, Staff Sgt. Robert Lipe, has been missing in action since Dec. 1, 1943, and another brother, Sgt. Willis Lipe is stationed in Germany.

Wheat Prices Highest

WASHINGTON, April 24.—Wheat prices now are the highest in 20 years, reflecting increased war demands, the Bureau of Agricultural Economics reported today.

In a summary of the 1945 wheat crop outlook, BAE said a very large crop this year probably would lower prices but that "with good demand in prospect prices may be expected to continue at relatively high levels."

Democratic Senators Pledge Truman Support

WASHINGTON, April 24.—President Truman met with 38 Democratic senators today to receive a pledge of all-out party support.

Every faction within the Democratic membership of the senate was represented at the 15-minute meeting at the White House.

Sen. Hill of Alabama, party whip in the senate, said every Democratic senator now in the capital attended the meeting.

Hill presented resolutions adopted by the senate conference last Friday pledging the party's good will, cooperation and support.

The White House had no information on whether Russian Foreign Commissar V. M. Molotov would call on the President again today.

The conference with the Democratic leadership of the senate followed meetings last week with spokesmen for the Republican minority who offered to consult with the President at any time in an effort to avoid legislative controversy by ironing out differences in advance.

PACIFIC FRONT

PHILIPPINES: Japanese forces defending Mindanao were bisected by capture of Habacana town and its highway junction. Local gains made in all sectors of Luzon. Gen. MacArthur announces 10,886 Japanese dead counted and 333 prisoners taken in the Philippines since April 16.

GOVERNMENT PUTS MEAT SUBSIDY UP

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 24.—The government sought today to put more meat on the nation's tables by decreeing a $34,000,000 price relief program for packers and new controls to spread supplies evenly.

Prices housewives pay for meat are not affected.

The $34,000,000—mostly in increased subsidies—will be paid at that annual rate to slaughterers to ease a "squeeze" many claim is forcing them out of business.

The objective of the new distribution control system is to divert more livestock to federally-inspected packing houses, and thus allow more meat to move across state lines to areas of scarcity.

Says Nazi Atrocities In Prisons Unbelievable

BUCHENWALD, Germany, April 24.—Eight American congressmen agreed today after inspecting the horrors of Buchenwald prison camp that the evidence of Nazi atrocities committed there exceed the wildest flights of imagination.

"This is the most horrible thing that anyone could conceive," said Rep. Carter Manasco (D-Ala.) after he and his companions had been shown around the camp—where emaciated bodies of the Nazis' victims are still stacked like cordwood, where men hung on spikes like sides of beef until they died, and where bodies by the hundreds were burned in furnaces.
